To whom it may concern:

With the increasing frequency of data breaches and identity theft, compliance is of great concern. New privacy laws such as HITECH and the new Omnibus HIPAA changes, are bringing higher penalties and increased expectations in prevention. As a rural community hospital, we deal with limited budgets and a lack of resources making it difficult to be fully proactive.

ID Theft Solutions of America contacted our hospital and explained how they can become our "partner" for all things before, during, and after a breach occurs at no direct cost to the facility.

Their team of certified specialists spent 3 days on site completing a thorough risk assessment, training all of our employees, and provided a comprehensive policy bank of living documents. Most importantly, as a hospital, we can now say that we have been proactive in protecting our patients, employees, and vendors sensitive information. Our time can now focus on providing better healthcare.

I highly recommend using IDTSOA for any or all of your breach prevention needs.
